The 2012 National Black History theme is "Black Women in American Culture and History." M-DCPS recognizes Black History Month as a time to reflect on the African American women who have played a myriad of critical roles in the making of our nation.

- In Miami-Dade County Public Schools, Black history is not just a subject studied and discussed in February. It is a topic of substance that is woven into all subjects throughout the school year.
 - The Division of Social Sciences and Life Skills has additional lesson plans, state programs, professional development opportunities, and competitions dedicated to the study of African American History available at:

 - The Division of Social Sciences and Life Skills has included in the 2012 Black History Instructional Packet online reference resources for elementary and secondary students. The 2012 Black History Instructional Packet online reference resources have been provided by the Division of Instructional Technology, Instructional Materials, and Library Media Services. The link for the online database resource is available at: http://socialsciences.dadeschools.net/pdf/2012 Black History Resource Packet.pdf.
 - A brief Power Point presentation is attached for schools to celebrate Black History Month.
