To announce a half-day professional development workshop on Holocaust Education for secondary social sciences teachers in grades 6-12.

- The Division of Academics, Department of Social Sciences, in cooperation with the Craig and Barbara Weiner Holocaust Reflection and Resource Center; and Echos & Reflections, is offering two half-day workshops for secondary school social sciences teachers.
- The workshops will offer an examination of the range of choices and decisions made by individuals, communities and nations during the Holocaust which is a powerful lens through which to study this period of history. This approach encourages deep critical thinking and analysis, and serves as a catalyst to compel students to work toward making change in their own lives and society.
- This learning opportunity examines the consequences of inaction and highlights the courage and difficult choices of those who rescued and resisted during the Holocaust. Educators will gain the tools to support students to implement an action-oriented project influenced by the lessons of this history.
