Social Sciences and Life Skills, in cooperation with the Muriel F. Siebert Foundation, is sponsoring a financial literacy workshop for social studies teachers, with preference given to 7th grade Civics and 12th grade Economics teachers.

- To become financially literate, students need to understand the functions of financial institutions, the problems related to debt and credit, and the investment options open to them as adults.
  - To assist social studies teachers in their efforts to teach financial literacy through their required curriculum, a one-day workshop is being sponsored by the Division of Social Sciences and Life Skills, in cooperation with the Muriel F. Siebert Foundation.
  - The workshop will be held on Saturday, October 2, 2010 from 9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m., Site TBA.
  - Teachers participating in the workshop will receive free teaching materials, a $100 stipend, and 8 MPP pending completion of a follow-up assignment following the workshop.
  - This is the third teacher workshop sponsored by the Muriel F. Siebert Foundation since 2009. Teachers who attended the earlier workshops should not register for this second session since the content is essentially the same.
  - Registration will take place on-line through the M-DCPS Professional Development Menu and Registration System. Click on “Find a Session by Instructor.” The Financial Literacy workshop instructor is listed as Alayne Zeto.
  - Registration is limited to 30 middle and 30 senior high school teachers with preference given to 7th grade Civics and 12th grade Economics teachers.
  - If you have any additional questions, please contact the Division of Social Sciences and Life Skills, at 305-995-1982.
