To provide schools with instructional resources to support the celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month, September 15 to October 15, 2015.

- Hispanic Heritage Month gives our diverse community the opportunity to recognize and celebrate the many historic, cultural, social, and economic contributions of Hispanics to the United States. Additionally, in Florida, State Statute 1003.42 requires the study of "the contributions of Hispanics to United States history."
- The Department of Social Sciences has compiled instructional resource guides for elementary and secondary school classrooms to support instruction during Hispanic Heritage Month (September 15 – October 15, 2015), and throughout the school year.
- These instructional resource guides include background information, full lesson plans and activities, suggested Internet resources, and other activities to support the character education core value for September (respect) and October (responsibility).
