To provide schools with instructional resources to support the commemoration of National Caribbean-American Heritage Month, June 2015.

- National Caribbean Heritage Month is celebrated each June. This occasion gives our diverse community an opportunity to recognize and celebrate the significance of Caribbean people and their descendants to the history of our community and nation.
  - The Department of Social Sciences has developed an instructional resource guide to provide schools with background information, suggested classroom activities, and a list of appropriate Internet resources to support National Caribbean-American Heritage Month.
  - Please find the instructional resource attached to this briefing. Please feel free to download and duplicate and/or forward as necessary.
  - Please note: Since there are only 4 actual school days in June where teachers are with students, the Department of Social Sciences is providing this instructional resource early in order for teachers to plan lessons in May related to National Caribbean-American Heritage Month which is celebrated in June.
  - For additional information about National Caribbean-American Heritage Month, please contact Mr. Robert Brazofsky, Executive Director, Department of Social Sciences, at the number listed below, or by email at rbrazofsky@dadeschools.net.
