To announce upcoming training and simulation dates for Senior High School social studies teachers interested in participating in the Program in National Securities Studies Fall Student Simulation.

- The Department of Social Sciences, in cooperation with Florida International University's (FIU) Jack D. Gordon Institute of Public Policy, is offering a four-hour training session on September 16, 2015 from 4:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. regarding this fall's student simulation concerning issues of national security.
 - To learn more about FIU's Jack D. Gordon Institute of Public Policy, please click on the following link: <http://ippcs.fiu.edu/>.
 - Participants will receive instruction regarding how to prepare students to participate in a student simulation exploring an issue of national security, free instructional materials, and 5 Master Plan Points for successful completion of all workshop requirements.
 - Information regarding the training and the simulation are as follows:
 - Wednesday, September 16, 2015 from 4:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.
 - Location: FIU's main south campus in the MARC Pavilion.
 - Topic: Prospects for a Nicaragua Canal (see attached flyers for additional details).
 - To register, please log in to MyLearningPlan through the Employee Portal and search for the session titled: Social Sciences- Senior High School Best Practices- Program in National Securities Studies.
 - Student Simulation Date and Location: Tuesday, October 27, 2015 at FIU's Graham Center Ballroom from 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.
 - Please note: It is the expectation that if you attend the training and receive the free instructional materials, you will bring a group of students to the student simulation. On the date of the simulation, the Department of Social Sciences will provide to schools transportation to and from the event and substitute coverage.
 - Priority access to this training and student simulation is reserved for 9th grade World History teachers and students and/or 12th grade U.S. Government teachers and students.
 - If you require additional information, please email Mr. Robert C. Brazofsky, Executive Director, Department of Social Sciences, rbrazofsky@dadeschools.net or see the contact information below.
