To announce an upcoming training opportunity for Senior High School Social Science teachers on the Program in National Securities Studies.

- The Division of Academics, Department of Social Sciences, in cooperation with Florida International University's (FIU) Jack D. Gordon Institute of Public Policy, is offering a ½ day training on January 29, 2019 from 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. at FIU's Modesto Maidique Campus.
 - The purpose of this training is to provide best practices to teachers for them to prepare students to participate in the Spring 2019 Senior High School National Security Simulation: Topic- Emerging Threats. See attached flyer for additional information.
 - To learn more about FIU's Jack D. Gordon Institute of Public Policy, please click on the following link: <http://jppcs.fiu.edu/>.
 - To register, please log in to MyLearningPlan through the Employee Portal and search for the session titled: Social Sciences- SHS Program in National Securities Studies- Spring 2019 Simulation Training.
 - Substitute coverage will be provided and emailed to participants once registered.
 - It is the expectation that if teachers attend the training and receive the free instructional materials, teachers will bring a group of students to the student simulation.
 - The Student Simulation Date and Location: Wednesday, February 27, 2019 at FIU's Graham Center Ballroom from 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.
 - On the date of the simulation, the Department of Social Sciences will provide transportation to and from the event and substitute coverage.
 - Priority access to this training and student simulation is reserved for 9th grade World History and 12th grade U.S. Government teachers and students.
