Miami-Dade County Public Schools' Student Government Association (SGA) Leadership Conference, Dr. Randal Pinkett, The Apprentice, 4th Season Winner, key note speaker, Wednesday, October 24, 2012

- The 2012 SGA Leadership Conference key note speaker is Dr. Randal Pinkett. Dr. Pinkett personifies academic and business success. Most people remember his rise to fame as the winner of the fourth season of Donald Trump's The Apprentice, a high point of his career, but there is much more to the man than this 2005 victory. See below for additional information regarding Dr. Pinkett:
 - Dr. Pinkett is a Rhodes Scholar, Olympic track star, author of multiple books, and has received two master's degrees and a PhD from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Most recently, his firm, BCT Partners, was just awarded two contracts from the Department of Health and Human Services worth close to $1 billion to upgrade its healthcare technology infrastructure. The goal of Dr. Pinkett's initiative is to bring healthcare technology into the 21st century.
 - The purpose of the "Student's Today, World Leaders Tomorrow Conference" is to inspire students to think more deeply, dream differently, and visualize how they can bring positive change to their communities and the world. Students will participate in workshops facilitated by local and national leaders that promote education, hard work, determination, and persistence as the gateway to success.
