To announce an upcoming professional development opportunity being offered by Everglades National Park – HM 69 Nike Missile Base workshop for World and U.S./American History senior high school teachers.

- The Division of Academics, Department of Social Sciences is pleased to partner with Everglades National Park to offer a professional development on the HM69 Nike Missile Base.
- Everglades National Park is home to the HM69 Nike Missile Base, one of the best-preserved relics of the Cold War in Florida. This missile base was built by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, completed in 1964 at the height of the Cold War, immediately following the Cuban Missile Crisis of October 1962. At a time when national security against Soviet attack was America's main priority, the United States Army chose this strategic site within Everglades National Park, located 160 miles from the Cuban coast, to build an anti-aircraft missile site.
- With this incredible resource in our National Park, the Everglades Education team has developed an onsite curriculum-based program for high school students. In partnership with a variety of M-DCPS high school administrators and social science educators, the Everglades Education team has created a suite of lesson plans to support the major topics of The Cold War and American Social Issues.
- Logistics are as follows:
