The United States honors the men and women who have served and are serving in the Armed Forces on November 11. The Department of Social Sciences has created instructional guides to assist teachers with lessons honoring our nation's veterans.

- The Department of Social Sciences has developed separate instructional resource guides for elementary and secondary teachers to assist them in providing instruction for Veterans Day: November 11, 2015. Since Veterans Day is a national holiday and school is not in session, teachers are encouraged to provide instruction prior to Wednesday, November 11, 2015.
 - The instructional resource guides include background information, full lesson plans and activities, suggested Internet resources, and other activities to support the character education core value for November (citizenship).
 - Please see the links below to access the instructional resource guides:

 - Also attached is a PowerPoint presentation that may be utilized to honor our nation's veterans. The PowerPoint may be used during school-wide opening exercises or in individual classrooms.
 - The above referenced instructional resources may also be downloaded directly from the Department of Social Sciences' website: <http://socialsciences.dadeschools.net>. Look under "Current News" and find the file titled: "Instructional Packets."
 - Should you have questions about these resources or need additional information, please contact Mr. Robert C. Brazofsky, Executive Director, Department of Social Sciences, at rbrazofsky@dadeschools.net, or see the contact information below.
